Realism

The following is material to consider for your syllabus. Specifically, there is:

1. Scholarly writing on realism written by diverse scholars and experts
2. Scholarly writing providing geographic variety and geographically varied perspectives
3. Studies and analyses examining diversity, equity and inclusion-related dimensions of realism

This is a living document; resources will be added and altered over time to ensure timeliness and quality. We would welcome your contributions and feedback.

DISCUSSIONS OF THEORY

Key words: international organization (IO), global governance, realism, inter-national

Key words: regimes, international cooperation, conflict, state-centric paradigm

Key words: international politics, anarchy, interdependence

Key words: neo-realist paradigm, Paul Schroeder’s article

Georgetown Institute for Women, Peace and Security
giwps.georgetown.edu

Key words: realist tradition, new terminology, a more coherent classification scheme

REGION-SPECIFIC DISCUSSIONS OF REALISM

Key words: realism, postmodernism, the China-Taiwan relationship

Key words: Taiwan Strait, One-China policy, the current framework between China and US, 92 consensus, the United States

Key words: Africa, knowledge, language, experience, IR theory, African voices, positionality

Key words: realism, constructivism, middle power, soft balancing, Canadian foreign policy

Key words: Southern Africa, geopolitical, regional security

Key words: Latin American thinking in international relations, research enterprise, knowledge aggregation, global south, autonomy

Key words: Latin American security, regional power, multilateral security institutions

Key words: South America, West Africa, security, realism, comparative perspective

Key words: conflicts, foreign policy, intervention, Nigeria, South Africa, structural realism

INTERSECTIONS: DEI & REALISM

Key words: feminist theory, feminism in international relations, realism

Key words: feminist analysis, Hans Morgenthau’s six principles of political realism, bias, power, international system

Key words: constitutional rights, Congress, the executive branch, institutional structure of American government, federalism, African American farmers

Key words: indigenous peoples, natural resources, sovereignty, human rights law
Liberalism

The following is material to consider for your syllabus. Specifically, there is:

1. Scholarly writing on liberalism written by diverse scholars and experts
2. Scholarly writing providing geographic variety and geographically varied perspectives
3. Studies and analyses examining diversity, equity and inclusion-related dimensions of liberalism

This is a living document; resources will be added and altered over time to ensure timeliness and quality. We would welcome your contributions and feedback.

DISCUSSIONS OF THEORY

Key words: authority dynamics, global governance, ‘global governors’

Key words: international institutions, neoliberalism, nonstate actors

Key words: idealist liberalism, interwar period, imperialism

Key words: globalization, intergovernmental cooperation, international law, ‘government networks’

Key words: constructivism, neoliberal institutionalism, cooperation

Key words: international finance, developing countries, global governance

LIBERALISM & DEMOCRATIC PEACE THEORY

Key words: democratic peace hypothesis, alliances, dispute-rate

Key words: democratization, regime type, world politics

Key words: democratic peace, threat perception, liberal-democratic norms

Key words: signaling theory, probabilistic theories, selection bias, democratic peace

Key words: public opinion, polls, democratic peace, causal mechanisms

Key words: logic, propositional calculus, democratic peace

REGION-SPECIFIC DISCUSSIONS OF LIBERALISM

Key words: ASEAN, security, realism, neoliberalism, APEC

Key words: neoliberalism, inequality, South Africa, urbanization, development

Key words: employment, poverty, neoliberalism, equality

______________________________________________________________________________________________

INTERSECTIONS: DEI & LIBERALISM

Key words: violence against women, feminism, gender construction, nongovernmental organizations, economic liberalism

Key words: critical race theory (CRT), law, justice, neoliberalism

Key words: Mapuche, indigenous rights, neoliberal multiculturalism

Key words: bisexual, European Union, feminism, gay, lesbian, Poland, solidarity, transgender and queer politics, transnational activism

Key words: migration, racialization, Roma, neoliberalism, anti-Gypsyism

   Key words: feminist theory, realism, liberalism, patriarchy

   Key words: global gender equality regime, global women’s networks, gender equality norms, constructivism and gender, neoliberal approach in international relations and gender
Constructivism

The following is material to consider for your syllabus. Specifically, there is:

1. Scholarly writing on constructivism written by diverse scholars and experts
2. Scholarly writing providing geographic variety and geographically varied perspectives
3. Studies and analyses examining diversity, equity and inclusion-related dimensions of constructivism

This is a living document; resources will be added and altered over time to ensure timeliness and quality. We would welcome your contributions and feedback.

DISCUSSIONS OF THEORY

Key words: neutrality, constructivism, foreign policy continuity, war, group identity, mercantilism, commerce, treaties, navies, international trade

Key words: end of the Cold War, post 9/11 and the global war on terrorism, American economic and “soft power” primacy, foreign policy development

Key words: states’ responses to international norms, rhetorical adaptation

Key words: International Organization, the relationship between norms and rationality

Key words: constructivism, ideas, identity, norms, culture, beliefs

Key words: norms, human rights, law, international relations, constructivism, discourse, economic and social rights

Key words: transnational advocacy networks and international politics, modern advocacy networks, human rights advocacy networks, environmental advocacy networks

Key words: constructivism, applying the constructivist approach in research

Key words: attachment, intractable conflict, ontological security, routines, security dilemma, uncertainty

Key words: emerging global civil society, transnational social movements, international political institutions

Key words: international nongovernmental organizations, varieties of activism

REGION-SPECIFIC DISCUSSIONS OF CONSTRUCTIVISM

Key words: Western major powers, 1990-91 Gulf War against Saddam Hussein, 1992-95 Bosnia-Herzegovina conflict

Key words: duchies, treaties, war, Germanicism, international cooperation

Key words: US-China relations, human rights, power politics, constructivist norm theories

INTERSECTIONS: DEI & CONSTRUCTIVISM

Key words: global gender equality regime, global women’s networks, gender equality norms, constructivism and gender, neoliberal approach in international relations and gender

Key words: feminism in international relations, feminist constructivism

Key words: cultural theory of international relations, drivers of human action, states' motivations

Key words: security analysis, the silent subject, security dilemma, speech and security

Key words: economic sanctions, racial equality, apartheid, anti apartheid movements, conservatism, democracy, international cooperation, civil rights movements, political debate

Key words: indigenousness, constructivist approach, ‘indigenous peoples’
Feminism

The following is material to consider for your syllabus. Specifically, there is:

1. Scholarly writing on feminism written by diverse scholars and experts
2. Scholarly writing providing geographic variety and geographically varied perspectives
3. Studies and analyses examining diversity, equity and inclusion-related dimensions of feminism

This is a living document; resources will be added and altered over time to ensure timeliness and quality. We would welcome your contributions and feedback.

DISCUSSIONS OF THEORY

Key words: feminism, gender, international relations, philosophy, political economy, political science, politics, social science, sociology

Key words: feminist security theory (FST), structured violence, gendered insecurity

Key words: masculinities, globalization, gender identity, hegemonic masculinity

Key words: gender feminism, women’s human rights, gendered politics, transnational feminist solidarity

Key words: international relations, feminist theory, feminist politics, world politics, radical feminist

Georgetown Institute for Women, Peace and Security
giwps.georgetown.edu

Key words: ‘sherpas,’ global summits, summit law, ‘conference of commitments’

Key words: gender, feminist international relations, political economy

Key words: masculine state, feminist critique, security-seeking behavior

Key words: feminist IR, postmodernism, gender in development, gender in political economy, gendered security

Key words: sovereignty, problem of reconstruction, gender and emancipation, the state

Key words: global feminism, globalisation, feminist international relations

Key words: feminist study of war, political violence, gender in protracted conflict

Key words: gendered politics of peace and war, international sexual division of labor, gendered politics of identities

REGION-SPECIFIC DISCUSSIONS OF FEMINISM

Key words: Chinese feminism, ‘Western feminism,’ gender, regional feminism

Key words: ‘state feminism,’ urban China, Shanghai Women’s Federation (SWF)

Key words: Global South, feminism and democratization, Nigeria, Chile

Key words: feminism and the state, legal strategies, democratic institutions

INTERSECTIONS: DEI & FEMINISM

Key words: bisexual, European Union, feminism, gay, lesbian, Poland, solidarity, transgender and queer politics, transnational activism

Key words: activism, intersectionality, Israel, Lebanon, queer, war, women’s movement

Key words: indigenous women’s movement, Latin America, globalization

Key words: feminist political economy, ‘Aboriginal capitalism,’ First Nations, Indigenous governance
Postcolonialism

The following is material to consider for your syllabus. Specifically, there is:

1. Scholarly writing on postcolonialism written by diverse scholars and experts
2. Scholarly writing providing geographic variety and geographically varied perspectives
3. Studies and analyses examining diversity, equity and inclusion-related dimensions of postcolonialism

This is a living document; resources will be added and altered over time to ensure timeliness and quality. We would welcome your contributions and feedback.

DISCUSSIONS OF THEORY

Key words: Eurocentrism, Melian security studies, armed resistance of the weak

Key words: postcolonial theory, globalization, Islamic terrorism, Western civilization

Key words: decolonization, postcolonial theory, international relations

Key words: Third World scholarship, postcolonial discourse, North-South relationship

Key words: North-South relations, culture, identity, hybridity, globalization, consumption of modernity

Georgetown Institute for Women, Peace and Security

giwps.georgetown.edu

Key words: logocentrism, Iraq War, postmodern amnesia, politics of subjectivity

Key words: postcolonial theory, international relations, international political economy

Key words: postcolonial feminism, hegemonic power relations, first world feminism(s), geopolitical segregation, materiality, critical geographies

REGION-SPECIFIC DISCUSSIONS OF POSTCOLONIALISM

Key words: African international wars, neopatrimonial balancing thesis, inverted legitimacy, regional institutionalism, democratic peace

Key words: subaltern empire, imperial, postcolonial, peripherality, Putinism

Key words: modern sovereignty, European integration, European Overseas Countries and Territories (OCTs), postcolonialism

Key words: decolonization, Africanism, nationalism, ethnicity, the African postcolonial state

Key words: magic realism, Latin American “South,” new postcolonialism

Key words: postcolonial intersectionality, feminist political ecology, Afro-descendant women, human rights, international development, Latin America

Key words: Caribbean fiction, novels of delegitimation, relation identity, post-identitarian postcolonialism

Key words: Chinese patriarchy, postcolonialism, globalization, Hong Kong women, entrepreneurial women

Key words: identity formation, European postcolonial migration, multiculturalism, identity politics

Key words: language of decolonization, indigeneity, Aborigines, Australians

INTERSECTIONS: DEI & POSTCOLONIALISM

Key words: postcolonial theory, power, critical international relations, power of representation, intersections of race and gender, global capitalism, class, recovery, resistance, agency

Georgetown Institute for Women, Peace and Security

giwps.georgetown.edu
Key words: political participation, occupation area, political awareness, local social movement, student leader, queer lives, Hong Kong

Key words: widow's rights, Nigeria, politics of reform, customary law

Key words: Third World, global discourses, globalization, dependency

Key words: postcolonial feminism in international relations, world politics, power relations, hegemony, intersectionality, culture, politics, race, power, resistance

Key words: world-systems theory, postcolonial theory, poststructuralism, feminism

Key words: anti-intellectualism, postcolonial feminism, binarism

Key words: women of color, intersectional feminism, post-colonialism

Key words: agency, development, discourse, eurocentrism, feminism, postcolonialism

Key words: Latin American colonality, Marxism, dependency theory, liberation theology, heterogeneity, language, contemporary postcolonial theory, identity, otherness

Key words: LGBTQ, LGBTQ activism, Sri Lanka, social movement theory, grievances, collective identity, strategy, postcolonial theory