

Graduate Research Assistant

The Georgetown Institute for Women, Peace and Security (GIWPS) is looking to engage a current Georgetown graduate student to support research on gender equality, women's political participation, and the Women, Peace and Security agenda.

The Research Assistant (RA) will work on a variety of tasks related to the research project: quantitative data analysis, data visualization, and drafting and writing of research analysis and policy briefs. The RA will work with and be supervised by GIWPS Senior Research Fellow Dr. Robert Nagel.

The expected wage for this work will be $22 /hour. The expected start date is February 12, 2024, and the expected end date is August 31, 2024, and with an opportunity to extend, based on performance.

Please send a resume, cover letter, a short writing sample demonstrating data analysis skills, and a data visualization sample, in a single PDF file to rn538@georgetown.edu with the subject line "Graduate Research Assistant - Commitment."

Georgetown University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer fully dedicated to achieving a diverse team of employees. All qualified applicants are encouraged to apply and will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, national origin, age, sex (including pregnancy, gender identity and expression, and sexual orientation), disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Job Requirements: Candidates should have excellent quantitative research and data visualization skills, experience using statistical software (SPSS, Stata, Tableau etc), and a background or demonstrated interest in Women, Peace and Security, gender equality, and women's political participation. The RA will be expected to work 10-20 hours a week.